Notes

IMC Walters came to Iowa by way of a steamer from Cleveland OH to Detroit, then took the "cars" from there to Rockford. His family with relatives went on to Canton, IA by way of wagon and he stayed in Chicago waiting for a wagon to arrive. The family took the trip with a man by the name of Glidden and arrived safely at William Eckler's in October 1852. Some of the family came by way of wagons and oxen. About 1853 William Eckler and James Hall erected a dam on the Maquoketa River and built a water-power sawmill. About 1863 or 1864 Eckler and MC Walters built a steam mill which was used for a sawmill. The old water mill was then fitted up as a grist mill. James Hall and William Eckler built the first half dozen or so houses. The population at any one time was never more than 50. M C Walters kept the first and only store, above which was the Odd Fellows Hall. On Saturday night loggers and other workers came to the store to turn in time and get cash or credit checks. There was a box of free tobacco and clay pipes for customers who stayed and sat a spell. Besides the usual salt and hardware the store was stocked with materials, men's shoes, etc. Deer, prairie chicken, partridge and coon were frequent fare on the table. The schoolhouse was on the north side of town established by M C and he also was the postmaster. In the Business Directory for 1882 he was listed as a grocer and sold shoes at Clayford. C A Hall was listed as constable and had a meat market. On 10 Oct 1888 he and Mary A Newberry were married by Rev. H C Asler of Cold Brook, NY. This marriage info is from Herkimer Co Hist.
