Clay Cemetery names preserved in stone

by Shirley Jones

Four active board members, Ronnie Reid, Daryl Wherry, Neal Paulsen, and Dale Bickford, are diligently working to make improvements at Clay Cemetery on Temple Hill Road northeast of Onslow. Their latest project is to preserve in stone the family names of those laid to rest in the clay hill since 1856 when it was established.

A gigantic hard granite rock has been donated to the cemetery board by Tommy Doll. The board members had searched for three or four years to locate a suitable rock in Clay Township. The granite was taken to Stone City Stone, where it was cut in half and polished. One half is engraved with Clay Cemetery, and a very appropriate saying found by Reid, "The earth does not belong to man; man belongs to the earth." The other half will be inscribed with the more than 80 surnames of those buried in the half acre cemetery.

Three foot deep footings of cement were poured to keep the stone halves stable. The project was a cooperative effort. Neal dug the holes and formed them for the footings. Dale and Ronnie prepared the cement and filled the holes.

Quite a number of people have already donated to the project after observing what is being done. It is hoped that enough can be raised to cover the costs of the inscribing. The township contributes some money toward mowing the public cemetery, but any other work that is done is supported by donations.

The men are proud of the young trees they planted a few years ago, after losing most of the original trees as they aged.

A headstone marking the first burial site in the cemetery, that of Lyman Hall (1790-1855) and Susanna Clemens Hall in 1855, had deteriorated, so the four replaced it with a new one. The Halls were some of the first settlers in the territory. Family members are all buried in the cemetery with names such as Eckler, Green, Walters, and Orr.

A lot of work was done by Ronnie's dad and Daryl's dad back when the hill was overgrown with trees and brush in the back. They were also instrumental in installing the new fence that encloses the cemetery.

"They put in a lot of work, so we figure we should keep it up," Daryl said.

One grave had only a wooden cross to mark it. When it rotted out, it was replaced with a second wooden cross. Neal brought a rock over to mark it. They are sure the gravesite is that of a veteran, but through the Veterans Administration it is a challenge to find the name of their unknown soldier. The Civil War information on microfilm at Hopkinton is providing a valuable source in their search for the missing pieces of history.

Another project in the works is to straighten the markers that are leaning.

When the cemetery was originally formed, each family took care of their own lot. As time progressed, many of the families moved away and there was no money available for perpetual care.

At one time Clay Cemetery was not well maintained. "If somebody doesn't take a hold of this when we are gone, the same thing can happen again," Wherry added. Caretakers Gale Williams and Johnny Carstensen currently do the mowing and trimming.

The trustees are responsible for raising money for maintenance, and the funds are levied to the board.

There are two and a half cemeteries in Clay township, Canton, Clay, and half of South Mineral. The township line goes through South Mineral Cemetery, with half in Wyoming Township and half in Clay Township.

Trustees Myron Walters, John Jenkins and

James L. Hall formed Clay Cemetery with the filing date of Jan. 21, 1856. The burial ground was established on property formerly owned by John and Sarah French. In 1914 it was reformed with witnesses being T. L. Green, William Fletcher, J.D. Neelans, J.A. Hamilton, R.A. Scroggie, R.W. Chatterton, J.A. Hanna, J.W. Orr, B.W. Streeper, A.C. Alexander and John Dennison.

MRS. JACOB B. HOSS DEAD

End Came at Anamosa, Iowa, June 2--
 Resides Here for Many Years.

Mrs. Jacob B. Hoss died on Tuesday, June 2 at the home of her daughter Mrs. James Johnson, at Anamosa, Ia., and was buried at that city on Wednesday. She was in the eighty-second year of her age at the time of her death and for many years had been badly afflicted with rheumatism, with which she suffered intensely almost up to the time of her death.

Mary Barnard was born in Lancaster county, Pa., March 7, 1821, and on April 22, 1847, was married to Jacob B. Hoss who with their daughter, survives. Two sons have preceded their mother to the grave.

In 1856 Mr. and Mrs. Hoss moved from their eastern home to Anamosa, Ia., where they lived for twelve years. They then came to Sterling and made their home here up to three years ago, when the weight of years bore heavily upon the aged couple and they removed their home to that of their daughter at Anamosa.

For upwards of fifty-five years Mr. and Mrs. Hoss traveled the journey of life in company and they aged husband is deeply stricken in the death of his wife.

During their long residence in Sterling Mr. and Mrs. Hoss gained many staunch friends who will extend to the aged husband and bereaved daughter, most hearty sympathy in their loss.

DEATH OF JACOB HOSS. 1903

Jacob B. Hoss was born March 30, 1824, in Chester county, Pa., and was married to Mary Barnard April 22, 1847. Mrs. Hoss predeceased her husband June 2, 1902. In 1856 Mr. Hoss removed with his family to Anamosa, Iowa, remaining until 1868, when he made his home at Sterling, Ill. In 1898 Mr. Hoss returned to Anamosa and has since resided with his daughter, Mrs. James Johnston, who alone of his three children survive him.

Prior to removing to Sterling Mr. Hoss had become a member of the M. E. church in this city and always claimed affiliation therewith, but since returning owing to family circumstances, he has worshipped at St. Mark's church, where for three years at least he has been an almost constant attendant.

On Christmas eve he was present at the children's exercises at St. Mark's and expressed his delight therein, appearing in his usual happy spirit. The following afternoon he complained of sickness and the physician being called it was ascertained he was a victim of pneumonia. The issue was not in doubt. He passed to his rest at 8:30 A. M., December 31, 1903, the funeral exercises being conducted by the Rev. Felix H. Pickworth at the house.

The choir was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Cook, Mr. T. E. Booth and Mrs. Keedick with Miss Myrtle Balch at the organ. The pall-bearers were Elisha Stacy, D. M. Hakes, E. J. Wood, E. C. Holt, J. P. Scroggs and E. M. Harvey.

April 1897

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hoss celebrated their golden wedding today at their home on west Fourth street, by entertaining a number of friends at dinner. It was a happy occasion and Uncle Jake and his bride were showered with congratulations. Prof. H. B. Hursh made an appropriate congratulatory speech, and all joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne." Dinner was then announced, it being two o'clock. Mrs. Gray of Morrison presided over this function, which was elaborate and sumptuous. She was assisted by Mrs. Vogt and Miss Bridget Riley. The party around the table was a merry one and none were merrier than the bride and groom of fifty years ago.

Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames August Frank, Fred Buell, G. M. Robinson, Dr. Pennington, Prof. Hursh, N. Gaulrapp, Jr., H. F. Kent, John C. Meister, E. B. Roher.

Mesdames Johnson of Anamosa, Iowa, Rigby and Susan Gebhart.

Messrs. Alexander McCloy, Ben Royer, Howard Hoss of Anamosa.

Mr. Hoss was born in Chester county, Pa., in 1824, and his wife is a native of the lower end of Lancaster county, being born there in 1821. They were married in Lancaster, Pa., April 22, 1847, by Rev. McNair of the Presbyterian church. From there they went to the home of the bride's parents at Marietta, and later emigrated to the west in 1856 and settled at Anamosa. In 1868 they came to Sterling, where they have been respected citizens ever since. Mr. Hoss is a tinner by trade, having served an apprenticeship in Pennsylvania. They are as genial, happy, fortunate and good a couple of young old folks as bless any community.

They have seen this western country grow up and their children grow up with it, and feel complacently happy over the consummation of an event that few people live to enjoy. Everybody wishes them many anniversaries to follow their golden wedding.

Four children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Hoss, two of whom are living: Mrs. Anna Johnson of Anamosa, who is here, and Howard Hoss of Chicago, who was unable to be present today, Howard Hoss of Anamosa, their grandson, is here on his way to Brooklyn, N. Y., to take a position as an electrician. He will also visit their granddaughter, Mrs. Eva Ryerson, at Goshen, N. Y.

MARRIED.

Wednesday evening, Nov. 17, at the residence of Mr. E. M. Harvey, by Rev. J. I. Corbrn, Mr. John W. Gerber, of Cedar Rapids, and Miss Hattie M. Harvey, of this city.

This event was quite unexpected and accounts for the flying visit of Mr. Chas. Harvey, brother of the bride. Mr. Gerber was an Anamosa boy years ago and has been engaged for some time with Benedict & Co., fruit commission merchants, Cedar Rapids. He is a young man of fine reputation and first class business qualifications, and will no doubt prove a generous provider and a kind husband. The bride is a lady of most estimable worth in every essential meaning of that word. Her inherent gentleness, modesty and intelligence have always drawn many friends around her, and they will heartily join with us in extending unqualified well wishes for the future of both herself and the fortunate young man who won her for his helpmeet.

The wedding was a very quiet one and attended only by the relatives. After partaking of a bountiful repast, the happy couple were taken over to Martelle where they boarded the evening train for their new home in Cedar Rapids. Blessings be upon them.

GERBER-HARVEY.

GERBER-HARVEY.

One of the most genuine surprises for many a day was the wedding of John Gerber, who is with L. Benedict, next door to the GAZETTE office. Last evening without "sayin' a word" he took the 4:45 train for Anamosa, on a mission which was a very happy one, indeed. Accompanying him were his mother and sisters, Misses Mamie and Lou, and Mesdames Frank Ohler and E. R. Shaw. They were met at the depot by friends and proceeded to the home of E. M. Harvey, the contractor, where John promised, according to the rites of the Episcopal ritual, to cherish and protect the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey, Miss Hattie, for life. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. I. Corban, rector at that place temporarily. The brother of the bride, Mr. Chas. Harvey, assisted as best man, and Miss Mamie Gerber, sister of the groom, made a most charming bridesmaid. The ceremony was witnessed only by the intimate friends and relatives, but was one of the most pleasant occurring in that burg for years.

Little need be said of John Gerber in this connection, for he is a stranger to no one, a pleasant acquaintance to everybody. He is punctual in business, practical, genial, whole-souled, and an untiring worker, and has just the temperament which would make any woman happy.

The bride is one of the most admired of the ladies in Anamosa, is a most excellent young lady, and we heartily congratulate both.

The party were served a most delicate and bountiful supper after the ceremony, and then were driven to Martelle, where they took the train, arriving here at 10:30. John is all business, and is at his post today, smiling and handing out the cigars. If any one else can beat that record of leaving here at 4:45, getting a wife, a fine supper, heaps of congratulations, a ride to Martelle, and arrive home at 10 o'clock, we would like to see him. Mr. and Mrs. Gerber will live at 405 First avenue.

DEATH OF LOUISE GERBER.

A telegram received last week announced the death of Miss Louise Gerber in Florida, where she went a short time ago to look after her business interests. Miss Gerber has been assistant cashier in the National bank for many years. A sister, Mrs. M. C. Rigby, of Anamosa, with whom she made her home, died a few years ago. She has living two brothers, John of Washington, Harry of Florida, and a sister, Mrs. Nicodemus of Fremont, Neb. A nephew, John Rigby, resides in Knoxville Tenn., and a niece, Mrs. H. Kratochvil lives in Anamosa. Miss Gerber was a member of the Episcopal church and also belonged to the Order of the Eastern Star.

The body arrived from Florida, Tuesday evening and the funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 2 P. M.

The funeral was held from the E. A. Osborne residence, Father Campbell, Episcopal minister from Cedar Rapids officiating. Mrs. Lawrence Miller rendered appropriate hymns, Mrs. F. W. Henke, accompanist. Burial was in Riverside. The relatives present included her sister, Mrs. Nicodemus of Fremont, Neb., Mr. Nicodemus; Harry, brother, from Florida, and brother John from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Anna Johnston

Mrs. Anna Johnston To Observe 96th Birthday

Mrs. Anna Johnston observes her ninety-sixth birthday this Thursday at her home on south Garnavillo street. No special celebration is planned, but friends will visit her during the day.

Mrs. Johnston was born Feb. 10, 1848, at Paradise, Pa. She came to Anamosa, then known as Lexington, with her parents in the year 1856. Her parents names were Jacob and Katherine Hoss. Recalling her first trip to Anamosa, Mrs. Johnston says, "The roads were terrible." She accompanied her parents by train on the long trip from Pennsylvania to Dubuque. There the family crossed the river by ferry boat and finished the trip by stage coach. The trip took 14 hours.

Saw Anamosa Grow

Mrs. Johnston has watched the entire development of the town of Anamosa. She recalls the time when the present site of main street was covered with timber, and the place where the depot and freight yards are now located was the site of a small lake.

Mrs. Johnston still gets about the house without using glasses, although her eyesight is not as keen as when she was younger, and she must have the aid of a magnifying glass to read. Until three years ago she was an industrious knitter, and did some crocheting and embroidery work, but rheumatism has disabled her hands. She retains a cheerful outlook on life, and passes her time by visiting with members of her family and friends.

Children Named

She has two daughters, Mrs. Ira Bryerson, Goshen, N. Y., Mrs. J. G. Murphy, Hopkin, Minn.; four sons, William, James, John and Walter, all of Anamosa; 13 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

1883

—For the fall term at the Academy, closing December 2, the following students are 100, or perfect, in rhetorical exercises: Misses Mary Harvey, Fannie Bowers, Lavina Franks, Alta Atkinson, Ollie Johnston and Corda Atkinson. In attendance and punctuality Alta Atkinson is 100 and received prize for perfect deportment for last two terms; and Misses Harvey, Franks and Johnston are 99. Gould Dietz took prize in oral lessons. Lavina Franks ranks highest—95—in arithmetic and orthography. Mary Harvey is best in physiology and 85 in Arithmetic. Ollie Johnston is first in "Science of Common Things" and Daniel Streeter stands next highest. Jennie Gillen is 90 in chemistry, French and literature. Several have done remarkably well in history.

DEATH OF JAMES JOHNSON — 1900

Passed Away At His Home Last Sunday Morning.

It was with a sense of deep regret that the people of Anamosa learned last Sunday morning of the demise of James Johnson. His health had been poor for several years past. Two years ago he was afflicted with pneumonia and for days he hovered between life and death. He recovered sufficiently to resume his work but the incursions of the disease had so shattered his health that slowly but steadily he has failed. The end came last Sunday morning at 2 o'clock.

Biographical.

James M. Johnson was a native of Virginia, born at Willsburg, in 1844. With his parents he removed to Iowa, when but two years of age, and the Hawkeye state has been his home since. In 1868, he was married to Miss Anna Hoss, of Sterling, Ill. A portion of their early married life was spent in Monticello. From there they came to Anamosa. Later during a number of years, they made their home in Cedar Rapids, after a short time in Springville, returning to Anamosa in 1888. Nine children were born to them, eight of whom survive. They are: Eva, now Mrs. Ira Bryerson, of Goshen, N. Y., at present in the old world; Howard, an electrician in New York City; Sidney, with regular army in the Philippines; James, John, Anna, Walter and William, at home. Ollie, the eldest preceded her father in 1884, Mrs. Johnson also survives.

Deceased served throughout the rebellion. He enlisted in 1862 at Springville. He fought in the battles of Corinth, siege of Vicksburg, was on the Red River Expedition, was at Stone River, Champion Hill, marched through the Carolinas and was at Arbor Creek. He belonged to the 24th Iowa, Huzzy's Brigade.

James M. Johnson was one of the most indulgent and self-sacrificing of men in his family. An unremitting worker, his will power alone impelled him when his physical condition was such as would have compelled another man to give up. He has reared a splendid family and his devotion was an object lesson. He had a remarkable disposition in its evenness. If he ever wronged a man he did it unknowingly. He has been a landmark in the city for twenty years, and his passing is felt by our people as a personal loss to each.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from the house, Rev. Pickworth of St. Mark's society officiating. The three older children were unable to reach the city. Fred Steele post, G. A. R., had charge of the ceremony. The remains were laid at rest in Riverside cemetery.

No one receives a prize unless enrolled on the "Roll of Honor," to which have just been added the names of Misses Corda Atkinson, Franks and Bowers. Good students can finish the elementary branches and take the more advanced sciences. Winter term begins Monday, December 5. No deductions for absence and no students welcome for less than a term.

 Fancy work material—full line at

WILLS & DOUTRICK.

A game of ball between the juveniles of Anamosa and the juveniles of Monticello came off at the fair grounds yesterday afternoon, resulting in a victory for the latter, the score standing 28 to 7. The Anamosa players were twice the size of the Monticello kids. The excellent pitching for the Monticello club was done by Billy Podhaski who is no bigger than a hop-o'-my-thumb.

Andrew Miller, an old man who made his home with Len Wismire of Richland township, for several years, died last Saturday of old age. His body was brought to town Monday for shipment into Dubuque for interment. But on account of its decomposition the railroad company refused to receive it. Connor & Hogan were paid $15 for taking it to Dubuque in a wagon.

Mr. Geo. Bacher, who is in the employ of D. B. Fisk & Co. Chicago, was interviewing Monticello trade last week. Mr. Bacher, very much resembles his brother Charlie who used to live here. Being of a diffident nature, he is very much embarrassed at times during his trip here, by the young lady acquaintances of his brother very cordially grasping his hand and enquiring after his health and worldly prospects.
